CITIES TO SHAPE VIEWS ON SCHOOL REFORM IN B.C.

Lockley to Summon Municipal Union Leaders; Confers With McDiarmid

Will Lay Views Before Commission Investigating Educational System

The attitude of British Columbia cities towards educational reform will be decided definitely and outlined for the information of the Educational Survey Commission when President A. Lockley, of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, calls the executive of that body together immediately after the provincial election.

Mr. Lockley's decision to summon the executive followed a lengthy conference last night with F. A. McDiarmid, Parliamentary agent of the Union. As a result of this conference it was decided that the cities and organized districts of the province, through the Union, should be given an opportunity to make their views known to the investigating commission which will start a survey of education in this province immediately.

The Union of Municipalities has maintained clear-cut views on educational matters for many years and frequently has demanded important reform in the school system. Chiefly, the municipal authorities are anxious to reduce the cost of the public schools and to abolish waste in school administration. Municipal leaders are practically unanimous in their proposal that schools should be administered by city and municipal councils rather than by elected school boards. This change, they believe, would reduce the cost of education substantially without impairing the efficiency of the schools.

SENATORS DISCUSS BRANCHES OF C.N.R.

Hon. G. Gordon, Ontario, Suggests Either C.N.R. or C.P.R.
Have Monopoly

Senator Loughheed Fears
Logs. Will be Shipped
Across to Japan

Ottawa, June 6. (Canadian Press).—The Vancouver Island branches of the Canadian National Railways were under discussion at a session of the Senate Railway Committee to-day and the suggestion was made by Senator George Gordon, North Bay, Ontario, that the Canadian Pacific Railway and Canadian National Railways should agree to turn over the island lines to one or the other as a monopoly.

The Canadian National asked for two lines, one eight miles and the other twenty-six miles in length. G. Ruel, vice-president of the Canadian National, said the object was to get into the log-carrying business. The present Canadian National line on the island, he said, was non-productive. It was believed the extensions would earn enough to carry their own cost and might provide part of the interest on the old line.

REDISTRIBUTION PLANS FOR WEST IN SHAPE BUT EAST IS DELAYING FEDERAL BILL

Ottawa, June 6. (Canadian Press).—The Redistribution Bill appears still to be a considerable distance from completion. Fairly general agreement has been reached as regards the West, while little difficulty is expected in the Maritime Provinces, Ontario and Quebec, however, are still stumbling blocks, and little progress seems to have been made toward reaching a settlement in either of these provinces. The problem of city representation continues to be one of the most difficult. No general principle has been laid down to govern this and an endeavor is being made to settle each case on its own merits. Winnipeg, it is reported, has been allowed four members, but Toronto and Montreal are still unsettled.

Secretary Hughes had a conference with President Coolidge to-day, but it was not disclosed what plans had been determined upon as to making the document public. In the usual course it would be made public under agreement between the two countries after its text had reached Tokyo.

The reply probably will be handed by Secretary Hughes to Ambassador Hanihara, to whom the task of transmitting it to his Government will be entrusted. At the same time a copy will be cabled to the United States Embassy in Tokyo, in order that the Embassy staff may be kept fully in touch with every development of the situation.

Dr. Vye appeared on $5,000 bail from remanded proceedings. McNaughton is held by the Crown under sentence on another charge and pending appeal.

Counsel for the defence moved to break up the joint charges and set separate charges, one against each accused. Mr. Lowe opposed this course, citing legal references as authority for the joint charges in preliminary investigations. Magistrate Jay stated he saw no necessity to separate the charges at this instance. The accused were not on their trial and if the preliminary hearing resulted in a commitment then would be the time to make the application for separate hearing, he said. Before evidence commenced the public were excluded from the court room. The taking of evidence occupied the remainder of the morning session.

DEPUTY SPEAKER TOLD ABOUT BANK

The Deputy Speaker, said Mr. Murdoch, had come to his office on business not connected with the Home Bank. The subject of the conversation Mr. Gordon had referred to a serious situation which might develop in the bank.

"MIDNIGHT VISIT"
The Minister made the positive declaration that he did not know of the "midnight visit" of J. P. M. Stewart, a director of the Home Bank, to the Prime Minister at which the condition of the institution was revealed until long after it had taken place.

"When did you become aware of the conference, between the Home Bank directors and members of the Cabinet?" Mr. Porter asked. "Not until long after it had taken place," was the reply.

"Prior to the withdrawal?" "No."

"Are you quite certain?" "Quite certain," responded Mr. Murdoch.

Manufacturers Argue For High Canadian Tariff

Montreal, June 6.—"Canada's prosperity between 1870 and the time of the Great War is proof that protection is a true national policy. Lieut.-Colonel Arthur F. Hatch, of Hamilton, Ont., newly-elected president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, declared last night at the banquet which closed the association's annual convention here.

"If Canada wants industries—and industries mean work and wealth just as much as agriculture—the Canada must have tariff stability," declared J. H. Fortier, Quebec, first vice-president of the association.

C. Howard-Smith, retiring president, briefly appealed for unity in fighting for an adequate tariff.

MANUFACTURERS ASK REPORT TOLD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS

Resolution Passed at Convention Urges Abolition of Sales Tax

Members of Association Leave Montreal on Way to Wembley

Montreal, June 6.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the closing session of its annual meeting here adopted the following resolutions, among others:

Favoring an immediate increase in the tariff rates on finished products, and when that has been accomplished negotiations between Canada and other countries, especially those in the British Empire, directed toward reciprocal preferential tariff agreements.

Requesting the Federal Government to cancel the preferential tariff or to increase the Canadian tariff rates to equalize the difference between cost of production in Canada and the United Kingdom.

To prevent dumping. Requesting the Federal Government to safeguard Canadian factories against inroads by manufacturers in countries with depreciated currencies and to amend the anti-dumping laws to prevent seasonal dumping of goods in Canada.

Requesting the Federal Government to abolish the sales tax or to eliminate it as soon as possible.

Members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association who attended the convention here sailed to-day for the United Kingdom to visit the British Empire Exhibition.

REPORT ON SHIPS SENT TO MINISTER

Charges Against Government Vessels in B.C. Waters Subject of Senate Debate

C.N.R. Counsel Investigated; Senator Taylor is Not Satisfied

Ottawa, June 6.—When the resolution was reached in the Senate yesterday asking for a special committee to inquire into the report on the charges leveled against the administration of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine and Canadian National Railways by Senator J. D. Taylor, Senator Dandurand, Government leader, proposed that a committee of three from each side of the House be appointed to report on the charges.

Mr. Temple, C.N.R. counsel, who had investigated these charges, and to report to the Senate the advisability of proceeding further. He said Mr. Temple had arrived in the city and his report had been submitted to Sir Henry Thornton and was now in the possession of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

The report is in the same category as loaded dice in a gambler's hands," said Senator Taylor.

Senator Robertson suggested that Senator Taylor be handed the report and decide whether it was satisfactory or not. Senator Dandurand thought this would not be fair to Mr. Temple.

DEBATE ADJOURNED

Senator Dandurand stated he would lay the report on the table and that the debate should be adjourned until the following Tuesday.

Senator Taylor said he declined to place any reliance on a report made under circumstances that would not lead to the real facts of the case. He said Sir Henry Thornton had received word from Vancouver that the investigation was simply farce.

He further claimed there were scores of reports in existence exposing the "racality" going on.

$50,000 VOTED FOR BIRD PROTECTION

Commons Provides For Measures to Aid Canada's Feathered Visitors

Ottawa, June 6.—The House of Commons in committee of supply at a late hour last night dealt with Hon. Charles Stewart's estimate for Dominion lands and parks.

An item of $50,000 for protection of migratory birds was adopted with little discussion.

In connection with the vote of $50,000 for the administration of the act in regard to seed grain advances, Mr. Stewart stated that the total amount now outstanding was $2,751,775 of principal, and $1,304,996 of interest, remaining unpaid on a total advance of $13,000,000. Amount collected last year was $268,000, and the cost of administration was $40,000.

The Minister explained the vote of $100,000 required to provide relief by way of supplies of food, clothing, fuel, etc. for needy settlers in Alberta and Saskatchewan by co-operation and agreement with the Provincial Governments. The vote was reduced from the previous year by $25,000.

GREAT IRRIGATION SCHEME IN ARIZONA

Washington, June 6.—A Senate bill to make available $2,500,000 for the construction of a dam on the Gila River, near San Carlos, Ariz., was passed yesterday by the Senate. The dam would provide water for the irrigation of 30,000 acres, the largest portion of which is in the Pima Indian Reservation. The measure provides that lands in private ownership shall pay construction charges of the dam, amortized at five per cent interest over a forty-year period.

REPORT TOLD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS

Work in Fields Described at Session of Canadian Presbyterian Assembly

Higher Educational Standards; Expenditure During Year Was $548,538

Owen Sound, Ont., June 6 (Canadian Press).—Higher educational standards adopted in China and other Asiatic countries have necessitated a corresponding movement toward higher educational standards in mission schools and colleges under the auspices of Canadian churches. This fact was developed at the Presbyterian General Assembly when the Foreign Mission report was presented yesterday to the members of that body, meeting here.

"The time is past," said the report, "when missions can work independently. The work has become too large to be carried on singly. Few if any boards are able to finance adequately a theological or medical college or a university."

Dealing with the Canadian Presbyterian Foreign Mission funds, the report said:

"The ten fields to which Foreign Mission funds are applied are the following: Formosa, India, Korea, Honan (North China), South China, Trinidad, British Guiana, Ecuador, Shanghai and Chinese in Canada. There might be added a number of co-operative missions, such as the Shantung Christian University, the Chinese Christian College, the Severance Union Medical College and Hospital in Seoul, Korea, and the Canton Union Theological College.

TRINIDAD AND GUYANA

In Trinidad there are about 120,000 East Indians, and in British Guiana about 130,000. The Government has spent largely on schools in both colonies, and the missions co-operate with the Government in the promotion of the schools, in return being allowed the privilege of giving religious instruction one hour a day. The combination has proved beneficial in all respects. There are in Trinidad over twenty such schools in connection with the Presbyterian Church in Canada, having over 16,000 children.

CHINESE IN CANADA

"The Exclusion Bill was felt keenly by the Chinese and by many Canadian citizens. It is felt that unjust legislation that prevents Chinese who have made their homes in Canada for many years and have proved loyal citizens from bringing their wives and children is nevertheless the relationships between Chinese and Europeans have improved.

"There are over 100 points in Canada in which the Chinese are being taught by members of churches. In the territory lying east of Winnipeg to the Atlantic there are about 12,000 Chinese, about 1,200 of whom are in schools, and about 1,000 faithful men and women are devoting time and energy to their help.

HONAN

"In Honan the work has grown so that the Presbytery has been divided into two, the northern Presbytery because of the increase of the work will in future have to give much attention to the organization of the native church. The southern Presbytery in a territory less progressive will still give special attention to the non-Christian population. Never in the history of the mission has so much time been given to direct evangelistic work."

SHANGHAI

"Dr. MacMillan, who serves in connection with the Christian Literature Society, is optimistic as to the future of democracy in China. He states that while newspapers dwell upon the misdeeds of Man, ninety-nine per cent of the Chinese people are good law-abiding citizens."

SHANTUNG UNIVERSITY

"There are now eleven co-operative missions, and it is rapidly developing into an outstanding institution. There are 400 students in attendance, ten graduated in Arts and Sciences, eight in Theology and seven in Medicine. In medicine there are ninety-four students registered from fourteen different colleges, and the hospital in connection with the medical school has 100 beds."

In India opportunities for work and promise of fruitage are greater than ever before. There is a rising tide everywhere.

THE STAFF

"There are but 331 Canadians laboring in these different fields in which the misdeeds of Man, ninety-nine per cent of the Chinese people are good law-abiding citizens."

There is in the Wonsan district in Korea one man working in behalf of a population of five counties already established. Under the care of this one missionary there is in addition an academy for boys.

MUNICIPAL WOES—POLITICIANS AND "WORST ENEMIES"

MAYOR HAYWARD and Alderman Todd are candidates of opposing parties, but both have raised what they call a municipal issue in an effort to attract attention to their campaign.

One of them says the Government has not given the municipalities a "square deal," while the other cries that "year by year the worst enemy the cities and municipalities of British Columbia have had has been the Provincial Government."

Of course, no one believes that. Everybody understands quite perfectly that our worthy Mayor and Alderman are merely "talking big" for political purposes. New candidates in the field of politics, in the absence of anything better, often have to resort to such extremes in an effort to attract attention to themselves and to get mentioned in dispatches, as it were.

People who have lived here as far back as the boom days before the war have a pretty good idea that one must look much nearer home and not across the Bay to find the municipalities' worst enemies. The municipalities elect their own governors and manage their own affairs and finances within certain safety limits imposed by the Provincial Legislature.

At any rate, the Provincial Government cannot be held to blame for the over-spending on public works and services which the municipalities indulged in. This over-spending has been the source of their financial embarrassment during the last ten years, during which the taxpayers have been called upon to pay up.

The Mayor and Alderman Todd now seek to get around this fact by declaring that the Government is not paying the municipalities enough, but is taking more out of the municipalities in special forms of taxation that it is paying back.

One would have reason in assuming that these two men in their capacity as civic heads would be familiar with exactly what the Government has been contributing in the way of municipal aid. But because there seems to be some haziness on that point it may be well to publish here the facts.

The total revenue collected by the Provincial Government during the last fiscal year under classifications that may be said to come within municipal scope was $4,847,693.65. This sum was made up as follows:

	Within Provincial Jurisdiction	Within Municipalities
Motor Tax	$ 937,439.13	$ 37,920.00
Income Tax Corporation Tax, Express Companies and Bank Tax	1,476,515.00	850,113.00
Amusement Tax	282,814.74	7,300.00
Personal Property	522,895.00	340,000.00
Pari Mutuel	192,796.18
	$3,612,460.05	$1,235,233.00

The payments made to the municipalities during the period of time covered by the foregoing collections were:

Per Capita Grants to Schools	$1,161,709.42
Grants to Libraries	637.37
Grants to School Buildings	161,521.28
Grants for Industrial Education	13,909.50
Grants for Conveying Children to School	19,049.14
Share of Liquor Profits	1,114,537.89
Proportion of Liquor Profits apportioned to Hospitals	178,152.80
Share of Motor Licences	293,646.91
Whole of Pari Mutuel Tax	192,796.18
Grants for Unemployment Relief	42,925.48
Grants to Hospitals	364,226.75
Roads within Municipal Limits	131,550.38
	$3,670,783.79

Subtract from the foregoing payments to municipalities what was collected within them, namely, $3,612,460.05

That gives what the Government paid to the municipalities more than it received, amounting to $58,222.95. Neither the Mayor nor Alderman Todd, if they get right down to facts and away from politics, can find anything objectionable in the foregoing from the standpoint of the municipalities.

The generosity of the treatment accorded the municipalities is further emphasized when consideration is given to the small area of the Province included in organized or municipal districts, and the large area which is unorganized and for which the Government alone has to provide all public services. The municipal districts of British Columbia have a population of 397,931, or 75.86 per cent. of the total population of the Province and are contained within 1,476.89 square miles, or less than half of one per cent. of the total area of the Province.

Against this there is 24.14 per cent. of the population, or 126,651 persons, living in unorganized territory covering 354,378 square miles, or more than ninety-nine and one-half per cent. of the area of the Province.

Attempts to compare what may be done in other Provinces are futile for those who are seeking to create an issue, because British Columbia has by far the greatest percentage of unorganized territory of any Province in Canada. In fact, five of the Provinces have no unorganized territory to be administered by the Government. They are Alberta, Quebec, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. In these Provinces one hundred per cent. of the population is in organized districts. The percentages in organized districts in the others are: Manitoba, 93.97; Saskatchewan, 96; Ontario, 97. Compare these with the 75.86 per cent. in British Columbia.

The contrast is so great that it may be stated again in another form. Of the total population of Canada, which is 8,775,884, no less than 8,492,402 persons live in organized districts. Of the other 283,481 who do not, British Columbia has 126,651, or approximately 45 per cent.

All this means that the British Columbia Government has to carry out administrative functions to an indefinitely greater extent than do the Governments in the other Provinces, where such administration is generally carried out by local bodies with taxing powers. A correspondingly larger expenditure is, therefore, necessitated in British Columbia by the parent body.

People who consider these facts will agree that the Government of British Columbia has done pretty well by the municipalities.

Mayor Hayward and Alderman Todd, if they want to get very far in this campaign, had better try to get an issue with something in it instead of trying to shift the blame for the woes of the municipalities on to the Provincial Government.

CANCER NOT A CONTAGIOUS DISEASE

A dispatch was published across the continent recently giving it as the opinion of Dr. Charles H. Mayo that within a short time cancer would be regarded as contagious and would be treated in the same manner as other contagious diseases. The Toronto Star directs attention to the fact that Dr. Mayo has sent a statement to Dr. George A. Soper, managing director of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, making it clear that he had been misinterpreted.

What Dr. Mayo says he did say was that cancer is not now regarded as contagious, but that if scientists discover that a microbe transmits the disease, the way will be open for combating the cause rather than the result, as is now the case. Dr. Mayo's words were:

There are several causes which contribute to the development of cancer. Microbe infection possibly is one of them. Chronic injury or irritation is a long recognized cause, and may give opportunity for infection. While cancer should not be regarded as contagious, if a microbe is eventually found to be the cause of the disease it will permit of the control of a considerable percentage of the cases and give opportunity for the development of a rational form of treatment.

So far as is known there is, therefore, no cancer bacillus, nor is the disease one than can be considered contagious, a fact which contributes much to the peace of mind of those afflicted with the disease and which makes their lot easier than it would be if everyone felt called upon to avoid them.

CARRYING THE WHITE MAN'S BURDEN

FEW people have an adequate conception of the magnitude of the Bible distribution carried on in the British Empire by the British and Foreign Bible Society, as explained the other day by its president, the Duke of Connaught.

"There are about 450,000,000 people within the Empire," he said in his address at the annual meeting in Queen's Hall, London.

He added: "Some part of the Bible has been made available for about 350,000,000. In other words out of every nine British subjects seven may read the Scriptures in their mother tongue."

Stronger evidence it would be difficult to find of Great Britain's interest in her millions of sons and daughters.

Rains here at this season of the year are measured chiefly in strawberry crop terms.

The much-heralded death ray in London proved a dud. It has much in common with General McRae's Searchlight.

Safe bet that investors whose money was sunk without trace in Port Mann do not make up any of the crew of organized Third Party Hecklers at Premier Oliver's meetings.

That they still take their politics with old-time seriousness in the Maritime Provinces may be inferred from The Halifax Chronicle which accuses its Conservative opponent of nothing less than "a policy of lying."

Subway and other companies in the East are being defrauded by the use of German pfennigs in coin-collecting boxes and some arrests have been made. Even at that, it is about the safest way of playing foreign exchange.

Canadian taxpayers, it now appears, will save twenty-eight million dollars through Mr. Robb's budget, an increase of two millions over the original estimate. That must make Dr. Tolmie about mad enough to write another of his special Ottawa dispatches.

LIFE

From The San Francisco Chronicle

It is a futile process. Man puts in half his time hardening his muscles and the other half hardening his arteries.

Europe is full of undiscovered places.—E. O. Hoppe.

"AND I SHALL NEVER TRACE THIS PATH AGAIN"

And I shall never trace this path again, Nor take the blackish ocean in my eyes Along this coast, nor ever, walled in rain. Wait in these hemlocks while the high wind cries, And you will never hear your trout with me. Over and over I must say this through, Let's, forgetting that such things can be, Come back and wait, come back and wait for you.

Singers of things gone by, of things far gone Into the dark, I claim for mine your breath; All you have sung and said, all that is done. Beyond recall, cover her sweets with death. So that in half waking, it will not seem She has come back to me, even in dream.

Dr. Frank Crane on "The Gentleman Values"

(Copyright)

THE gentleman values are the strongest in the world.

Because the gentleman is first of all, a man. He is not a milkop. The gentleman is unafraid. As a rule the blusterer and the bully is a coward at heart.

The gentleman is quiet. He knows that power is silent; it is the waste of power that makes a noise. The steam in the locomotive that pulls the train, cannot be heard; that which hisses and whistles is the escape.

You cannot be a gentleman without imagination. You must be able to think yourself into the other man's feelings.

The gentleman doesn't hurry. He may move swiftly but his eye is always on the speedometer; he knows how fast he is going.

The gentleman never loses self control. And no man who does not control himself can control others.

The gentleman keeps the rules of the game. He doesn't cheat nor strike below the belt.

The gentleman respects himself. So others respect him.

The gentleman is not self-seeking. Hence honors seek him.

The gentleman minds his own business. He does not meddle. That is why others listen to him when he speaks and rely upon him when he promises.

The gentleman is a good loser. He does not boast when he gains and he does not whine when fortune turns against him. You have a feeling that the gentleman is a little indifferent both to your praise and your blame. Not that he is egotistic but that, after all, it is his own praise and blame that he values and fears.

The gentleman seeks justice; the half-civilized man seeks vengeance.

The gentleman treats his superiors with dignity and his inferiors with courtesy.

The gentleman shrinks from hurting the feelings of any human being or causing pain to any animal.

The gentleman may appreciate fame and value admiration but he does not have the itch for notoriety.

The gentleman feels ashamed when he is praised for that which he does not deserve.

The gentleman's desire is to be great; the boaster's desire is to be called great.

The gentleman is more particular about his character than about his reputation.

The gentleman is not known by his uniform; you can tell a gentleman in the clothes of a head waiter.

The gentleman is courteous but not servile; quiet but not weak; strong but not obstreperous; self-respecting but not proud; fair minded but not indifferent.

The Duel of the Shannon and Chesapeake

IT was Sunday morning, June 6, 1813. The decent citizens of Halifax were dutifully in church. Suddenly there came a rumor which penetrated even to the worshippers that two battered ships of war were standing into the harbor passage from the open sea and that they would surely tell a tale of some desperate action. The congregations melted from the buildings and the clergy preached to all-but-empty pews.

They were the Shannon and the Chesapeake, these battle-scarred and half-wrecked frigates. The larger of the two came on in rear and over her stern-sheets there flew two flags—below the stars and stripes, above the naval ensign of Great Britain. She was a warship and a prize. A smaller, limped proudly on ahead. All Halifax soon lined the shore and wharf sides and cheer after cheer went ringing out across the water till one had thought that human throats could endure no more. Plugs flew everywhere for joy, church bells rang and cannon thundered in salute.

The officers of the port put out to welcome the victor. It was a grim sight that met their eyes. Even yet the decks were bloody and there was other ghastly evidence enough of fight. Soon the story was broadcast, the ageless story of that epic battle.

It had happened six days before, on June 1, twenty miles at sea off Boston Light. The Shannon was cruising with the Tenedos along the coast of the United States, part of the immense blockading British fleet which had swept American merchantmen from the Atlantic and which was exercising such a grinding pressure on American resources as to become during the years since the war had broken out, and several British vessels had had to strike their colors to American antagonists of superior armament. Captain Broke of the Shannon, burning for an opportunity to wipe out what he and his brother naval officers considered deep disgrace upon their flag, sent away the Tenedos and hung off Boston while he sent in a challenge to a naval duel, a challenge which was gallantly accepted by Captain Lawrence of the Chesapeake.

Out sailed the Chesapeake and after her down Boston Bay there spread a crowd of enthusiastic yachts and pleasure craft to watch the sport, safely from afar, and to cheer another British prize into the harbor when all was securely over. The two ships were not unevenly matched. The Chesapeake was slightly larger. She carried fifty-two guns, able to throw a total weight of eleven hundred and eighty pounds of metal, and her crew numbered three hundred and seventy-six. The Shannon also carried fifty-two guns, able, however, to throw only a thousand and eighty pounds of metal, and her crew was only three hundred and six in all.

The action lasted only fifteen minutes, but it was one of the bloodiest and bitterest in naval annals. Both ships closed, firing every gun they could bring to bear and causing appalling havoc on each other's decks. As the hulls bumped the Shannon's crew, cutlass in hand, sprang over the bulwarks, swarmed across from rigging to rigging, and jumped wide sea-lanes to the enemy. It was a fierce and furious melee, but brief. Fighting with his men, Capt. Lawrence went down, and with him his second-in-command, Ludlow. It was but a matter of moment before the Stars and Stripes came fluttering from the masthead and the Union Jack ran up.

Then the crews, victorious and defeated, took stock amid the frightful carnage. Aboard the Chesapeake lay sixty-one dead or dying, and eighty-five lay wounded. The Shannon's decks held thirty-three dead and dying, and fifty wounded, among the latter Captain Broke. The second lieutenant, young Provo Wallis, later to become Admiral of the Fleet, sailed the two ships to Halifax, while the pleasure craft of Boston stole dejectedly back up Boston Bay.

At Halifax the jubilant citizens held a fête and presented an address of honor and congratulation to Captain Broke. Then, with all the ceremony of war, the victors buried the gallant American captain, and officers and crew of the fleet paid homage to the valor of a noble foe.

OUTLAWS SURRENDER
IN THE PHILIPPINES

Santiago and Six of His Followers Give up Weapons to Police

Manila, June 6.—Datu Santiago, most notorious of the Moro outlaws in recent years, has surrendered, said Philippine advisers to the Philippine Constabulary headquarters here from Lanao province to-day. Santiago has been sought since last October, when he and several followers killed ten persons, members of the constabulary, soldiers and school teachers, in that province.

The advisers said six followers had surrendered with Santiago and that the seven had turned over their arms.

Sidelights on a Great Industry

One-Third of British
Columbia's Revenue

FOREST INDUSTRIES CONTRIBUTE ENORMOUS SUM ANNUALLY

Amount Would Maintain All the Schools and Public Works in British Columbia

One can hardly go so far as to state that if it wasn't for the British Columbia forest industries there would be no schools, or roads, or bridges in the Province, but it is a significant fact that the taxes paid by the group known as the "lumber industry" during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1923, more than settled the total educational bill of British Columbia (including the grant to the university) and in addition covered the whole amount appropriated for the maintenance of the public works of the Province.

The total net revenue of British Columbia for 1923 was $18,758,864. Of this amount $3,247,033 came out of the pockets of our timberholders.

This sum may be said to represent the contribution of the raw material of the forests to the upkeep of the Province and is collected mainly in the form of timber royalties, license rentals and lease rentals.

It is an amount quite apart from the taxes paid by the loggers, the manufacturers and the distributors of the sawn product.

As the timber industries employ one worker in every four, and are responsible for a third of the total payroll of the Province, it is not unreasonable to suppose that they subscribe a very heavy proportion of the Provincial revenue in the form of direct and indirect taxation.

The total expenditures of the Department of Education and Public Works in 1923 was $6,217,000. The total contributed by the forest industries (including the huge quota of the timberholders) was certainly not less than this sum.

SHOPGIRL PROVES HER BIRTH CLAIM

STUDENTS PROTEST ARCHaic RULES

Oxford Women Start Movement Against "Social Restrictions"

London, June 6 (Canadian Press).—A movement that is receiving strong support is on foot among the women students of Oxford University in opposition to alleged excessive restrictions in their social life. The present rules for the guidance of the women students at Oxford, it is asserted, are based on the moral standard of the year 1875. Among the rules they seek to have changed is one that requires the approval of their college principal before one of them is permitted to join a society that is open equally to men and women. If meetings of the society in question are held in the men's college, the permission of the head must first be obtained before a woman student is allowed to attend and a senior woman member must attend a junior.

Mixed theatre parties are not permitted except in reserved seats. Mixed parties are not permitted in cafes before 2 p.m. or after 5.30. A woman undergraduate may not go for a walk or ride with a man except the man is her brother, without special permission, and in that case at least two women must be in the party. The women students who are up in arms against the restrictions, claim as their right the natural friendship which should exist between the two sexes and declare that the present rules create the unhealthy atmosphere which these rules seek to avoid.

GARDEN PARTY

St. John's Guild to Hold Enjoyable Affair at Gardens of Mrs. J. H. Todd and Mrs. Gillespie

Over 200 visitors attended the garden party held under the auspices of the Girls' Corner Club at "Clovelly," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Woodward in aid of the Y.W.C.A. building fund.

Many of the guests arrived early in the afternoon and spent some time in the beautiful grounds, which are looking very lovely with masses of foxgloves, violas and scarlet Oriental poppies. Others sat under the shade of the trees and enjoyed the musical selections of the Salvation Army band, who volunteered their services and to whom many thanks are due. The tennis courts and croquet ground were in constant demand by the younger set and the ice cream stall, in charge of the Misses R. and E. Watson, was well patronized. Miss E. Watson and Miss N. Wallace, assisted by two little girls dressed as flowers, were in charge of the home-made candy stall and did a brisk business.

Tea and refreshments were served in the house during the afternoon and evening by the members of the Girls' Corner Club who entertained their guests with a musical programme, which was much appreciated. Miss Black and Miss Audrey Bennett delighted the audience with vocal solos. Miss Shin, a Chinese lady and a member and worker for the Y.W.C.A. in Hongkong, gave an interesting talk on the work of the association in that land.

The proceeds amounted to $71.

LEAGUE CONSIDERS AMALGAMATING STEP

British-American League Considers Future Existence

The British-American League Post No. 1, of this city, has before it the consideration of a suggestion of several of its members either to go into total dissolution or to take out membership with the English Speaking Union. This subject was brought up and discussed at the annual meeting of the league at luncheon today at Spencer's dining-room, where members stated their views on the subject.

No definite decision had been reached up to this afternoon, but the body will in all probability amalgamate in a sense, with the English speaking union, as suggested. There are fifty-one members in the league post here at the present time, and according to the secretary's report there is nothing to indicate that they are greatly interested in the future of the league. The possibility of dissolution has not made any apparent impression upon them; it is believed, and the League will act according to the wishes of those who are interested in the subject. The present officers will take steps to gain membership in the E.S.U., providing the decision of the league warrants their action.

The league was first formed here in 1920, with Major W. B. Shaw as its president, its object being to foster friendly relations between Canada and the United States. Lindley Crease is the president of the club at present.

LAND CONVEYANCE NOT FRAUDULENT, SAYS APPELLANT

Debts of Father Subject of Suit by Son Before Court of Appeal

Hearing in the action of Cummings and Ellis vs. O'Flynn continued in the Court of Appeal this morning. The action is one by defendant-appellant from a decree which held Vancouver property under conveyance to himself liable for the debts of his father. The late John O'Flynn died at Vancouver on October 20, 1912, leaving debts of $800. Three parcels of land, including a homestead, were subject to a conveyance by father to son. This, held appellant, was for services rendered by the son in earlier years and for monies advanced to his parent. The learned trial judge had entered in finding that the conveyance was not intended to defraud had entered into the transaction, urged counsel.

HELD PROPERTY LIABLE

John Daniel O'Flynn, 2235 Sixteenth Avenue West, Vancouver, the son, appeals from a decision of Judge Grant in County Court that the conveyance of Vancouver property from his father, now deceased, was fraudulently made and void. The action was brought by Mary Cummings, 325 Howe Street, and Robert Ellis, 315 Cordova Street, Vancouver, as creditors of the estate of the late John O'Flynn. Judge Grant held the property liable for the just debts of the late John O'Flynn, and the appeal appears for appellant, and J. Edward Bird for plaintiff-respondent.

THREE CASES HEARD

Three appeals were concluded by the Court yesterday, the first unbridged day of hearing. Judgment was reserved in respect to the appeal of Standard Lumber; and in Bushby vs. Tanner. The appeal in Coburn et al vs. Adams was dismissed.

The first named hearing was an appeal by A. P. Allison, lumberman of Vancouver, from a judgment of Mr. Justice Murphy, who dismissed plaintiffs' claim for $7,000 and ordered a reference to the registrar for an account of the log cutting transaction under which plaintiff was to get one-quarter of the net profits. When settlement came, help plaintiff defendant asserted there were no profits, and that the logs had been sold at a loss. R. Symes appeared for appellant, and E. P. Davis, K.C. for respondent.

Thomas in the chair, it was decided to hold the annual meeting of the association on Tuesday, and the Ladies' Auxiliary to the institution will prepare the supper, at which all members of the Y.M.C.A. will be welcome.

Reports of the various departments have been prepared, and will be given to the meeting in a short review of the year's work, well condensed. The president's report and the financial statement will feature the clearing off of the association's last mortgages debt, and the success of its drive for campaign funds.

An election of six new members to the board of directors will take place following the supper, and adjournment will be called at 8 o'clock, when the gathering will proceed to the main lobby of the building and go through the ritual of burning the mortgage. There will be a programme, with several short speeches, during the evening, and the meeting will be an early conclusion of the evening's proceedings is promised.

MINING MEN URGE SWEEPING REFORMS IN MINING LAWS

Fifty Per Cent Cut in Income Tax; Substantial Exemptions Asked

Sweeping reforms in British Columbia's mining laws are involved in the proposals which the mining operators of the Province are urging upon the Government now. This was clear to-day when details of the interview between Premier Oliver and representatives of the mining industry yesterday were made public.

"The proposals of the mining men will have considerable effect on the Province," said Premier Oliver. "The suggestions advanced yesterday were so important that they will have to be considered with extreme care."

Fifty per cent reduction in the income tax on mining profits and exemption of reinvested profits are urged by the operators. The proposals, which interest on borrowed capital be deducted before profits are assessed for income taxation.

Consideration of Federal and Provincial taxation on mining property as to reduce administration costs through the abolition of one set of taxes, and the abolition of one set of the leading points in the operators' reform programme.

While they are in favor of a bounty on pig iron produced in British Columbia, they are emphatically opposed to the Government guaranteeing the bonds of any smelter company. And in this connection they protested yesterday against any move which would prohibit the export of raw or partially-manufactured ores. Such a law, they asserted, would close many important mines now operating here.

Duty free admissions of mining machinery not manufactured in Canada was advocated, the operators suggesting that the duties on mining equipment generally be made more flexible. Establishment of a research bureau of metallurgy was opposed solely on grounds of economy. Greater expenditures on roads and trails to be used in mining operations was urged.

When the mining men complained to the Premier that British capital appeared to be more interested in the Province than in British Columbia, Mr. Oliver asked them frankly whether this was the result of taxation in this Province or of the fact that the mining industry had been marked in the past by a series of blunders. The delegation, the Premier said to-day, admitted that unsatisfactory speculations rather than tax had tended to discourage investment in the mines of the Province.

Oliver Bares Truth About Election Date at Last

Bowser dry—oh, so dry, he tells heckler. Halt in Oliver's rate fight would be calamity, says Vancouver businessman. Barrow returning home.

At last the real reason why the Government fixed June 20 as election day has come to light. For weeks there has been a mystery even to those political wisecracks who know everything. The facts were finally made clear by Premier Oliver himself to-day, when he was chatting with newspaper correspondents.

"Why June 20?" asked the Premier. "Well, I think it is time you boys knew, so I'll tell you. Friday, and June 20 is a Friday, is supposed to be an unlucky day, you know. But June 20 is the luckiest day in my life. That is why we're holding the election then." And the Premier added, with a chuckle, "That is my wedding day."

H. D. Twigg, Post Commander of the Canadian Legion, and Gus Lyons, First Vice-Commander, both resigned their office in the ex-service organization last night as they are running for the Legislature as Conservatives in the present election campaign. Their resignations were accepted with keen regret by those who are running for the Legislature, as the action of the two candidates was taken in view of the Legion's rule against participation in politics.

There was just one interruption at W. J. Bowser's recent meeting in Vancouver. The Conservative leader, in his usual trenchant style, was laying about him with right goods when on some involved question of public finance.

It was a hot night and the hall was jammed. A voice proceeding from the densely packed doorway shouted out in the middle of one of Mr. Bowser's best rounded periods: "What about beer?"

The speaker gazed about him at the perspiring multitude, and with a grin seized the glass of water at his elbow and drained it. "I feel just like my friend at the back of the hall," he remarked, amid shouts of laughter from the crowd.

Defeat of Premier Oliver and the interruption of his fight against disintegration in freight rates would be a calamity to Vancouver and British Columbia, said Charles Woodward, Liberal candidate for the Legislature, in the course of a speech in Vancouver this week.

"There is no chance of his being defeated if the people of this Province only realize the gravity of the situation. It is a matter of vital interest to everyone, because it involves our going on to the prosperity which is just beginning to return to us," Mr. Woodward continued.

"Premier Oliver has shown in this fight, even more than in anything he has ever done, that he is true to the best interests of the Province."

Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, telegraphed Premier Oliver to-day that he would reach the city to-morrow to meet with Liberal candidates in Victoria at the Margaret Jenkins School to-morrow night. He has been campaigning on the Mainland.

GROUP DISCUSSES HOME PRODUCTS

Selling Values of Well Packed Goods and Attractive Labels Emphasized

Storekeepers were very favorable to the idea of a home products week and had joined enthusiastically in the effort, M. P. Blair, chairman of the Tourist and Trade Group of the Chamber of Commerce, reported at the meeting of the group this afternoon. The chief stores of the city have had attractive window displays featuring British Columbia goods, Mr. Blair stated, and many had put in special stocks to use in their display.

The selling value of striking labels and well packed goods was emphasized by members of the group. It was pointed out by C. P. Hill that some of the large United States manufacturers spent great sums of money in having labels designed for their products. These labels were made and written in the assets of the company sometimes in millions of dollars. B.C. Producers should realize the great importance of packing goods and labeling them in a manner that would make them as attractive as the goods which they were sold in competition.

During the luncheon, loganberry and juice made by the Kershaw Company in Victoria from berries grown on the Saanich farm was served as a beverage. The resolution pledging the members to give preference first to British Columbia goods, then Canadian and then the products of the Empire was endorsed.

Compromise Reached In Player-writer Tennis Argument

William Tilden and Other Net
Scribes Will Be Able to Retain Status as Amateurs

Providence, R.I., June 6.—A compromise whereby William T. Tilden and other tennis player-writers retain their amateur status, and which is expected to settle the controversy between the United States Lawn Tennis Association and player-writers, was set forth here today by William T. Tilden, who is competing in the state tennis championship.

The compromise, it is understood, is acceptable to the U.S.L.T.A. Under its terms Tilden will be eligible to rejoin the United States Davis Cup team. It further provides that player-writers retain the right to write reports of tournaments in which the player-writer is competing, he shall use neither his name nor his title.

WILLING TO ACCEPT

Tilden's statement referring to the proposal follows in part:

"I am willing to accept such a compromise instead of the special committee is appointed and a full statement of the terms is given out by the U.S.L.T.A. I will accept an invitation to rejoin the Davis Cup team. I am therefore, unable to withdraw, but will be delighted to play for my country if my services are still desired and the committee again officially invites. This is done in view of the fact that this compromise places the player-writer question in the name position it held in 1923, prior to interpretation and therefore my amateur status is clearly and officially recognized by the executive committee."

University School Sports To-morrow

Considerable interest is being centred in the University School sports which will be held to-morrow at the University grounds. A well varied program of sports is arranged and there is a good entry for all of the events. The young athletes are so well matched that close finishes and keen contests are anticipated in every event. The first race will be started at 2 o'clock. Mr. Chief Justice Macdonald will present the prizes.

Fine Scores Made In Championship Golf At Detroit

Bobby Jones and Bill Mehlhorn Tied in Play For National Open Title

Detroit, June 6.—Bobby Jones of Atlanta, defending his title as national open golf champion, yesterday made a fine effort to retain his crown by scoring 74-73-147, on the 6580-yard links of the Oakland Hills club, and tying for first place with Bill Mehlhorn of St. Louis at the end of the first 36 holes of the championship tournament.

Carl Walker of New York, with a pair of 74's was the only one stroke behind the leaders, while Bobby Cruickshank, who lost the play-off of the title to Jones last year, was tied with Dave Robertson of Detroit with 149.

Walter Hagen of New York and Macdonald Smith of San Francisco had 150.

ESPINOSA SETS RECORD
It remained for Abe Espinosa of San Francisco, after a poor round of 80, to set a course record in competition for the present links by returning a tally of 34-37-71, one better than the record of 72 set by the morning, gave him a total of 151.

An improvement equally as startling as that of Espinosa was displayed by James West of New York, who after taking 81 strokes in the morning, chalked up a par 72 in the afternoon. This score included a spectacular eagle 2 on the 459-yard 18th hole.

SARAZEN UNCERTAIN
Gene Sarazen of New York, holder of the title two years ago, scored a record 33 on the first nine, but slumped to 41 on the second nine and took 74 for the afternoon round. This left him with a total of 107.

Another star performer of the links who did not meet expectations was Joe Kirkwood, New York, who after showing a fair 77 in the morning slipped off to 89 in the afternoon. Another disappointment to his New York, who headed the Eastern qualifications with 144. The most spectacular upset of the day was that of Jack Hutchinson of Chicago, former British open champion, who required no fewer than 155 for the holes.

There was a remarkably large gallery for a medal play event, course.

Mainland Decides Against Pro Soccer

Professional soccer, the possibilities of which have frequently been discussed by followers of the game in Victoria was turned down after discussion at the meeting of the Lower Mainland Football Association held in Vancouver this week. A committee had been appointed to present a report to the general meeting, and stated that professional soccer in their opinion could not be a success unless four or five inter-city teams were organized.

Football was never in such a flourishing condition in the Lower Mainland as it is at the present time the annual report showed.

Everything was in such good shape and the representatives were in such good humor over the bright reports that there was hardly a contentious matter brought up.

The financial report was most pleasing when it was shown that there was a surplus of more than $1,000. It did not take long to clean up the bills for injured players and everything was put in good shape for another big year.

Cecil Hay Leaves To Show Speed at The Olympic Trials

Settling all doubt after the long controversy on finances Dr. Cecil Hay left Victoria last night for Toronto and Montreal, where he will represent the Vancouver Island Amateur Athletic Association in the Olympic trials. Hay's clubmates have not the slightest doubt that his performances on the cinder track will win him the right to represent Canada at the Olympiad. Johnny Bayley and Chuck Hills, Vancouver swimmers, left Vancouver last night for a crack at the Canadian swimming championships at Winnipeg on June 9 and 10. If successful they will go to Toronto to make a strong bid for two of the four places on the swimming team that will represent Canada at the Olympic games in Paris.

Cranleigh House Defeats Tillicum In Bowlers' Game

At Beacon Hill Wednesday afternoon the school team won what was a bowlers' game by fifteen runs. The fielding on both sides was exceptionally keen. Sparks and Martin, in particular bringing off a spectacular catch apiece. Hewett, Sparks, Martin and Costerton for Cranleigh, and Donaldson and Heineky for Tillicum were the only batsmen to reach double figures, none of them arriving at the twenty mark. Helped by a tricky wicket, Sparks and Martin for the winners and Fletcher for the home team were deadly.

A cricket game has been called off owing to the University School grounds not being available. The Cranmore Road playing fields also cannot be obtained on Saturday next.

Pro Lacrosse on Mainland May Die

Whether professional lacrosse is to die a natural death or come back stronger than ever may be determined during the day when officials of the New Westminster and Vancouver clubs will get together with Bob Brown of Athletic Park to talk over the situation.

There was no game at New Westminster Wednesday and the Vancouver players do not seem very anxious to start anything which will get the schedule under way again. There does not seem to be any "angel" who is willing to take up the troubles of the local club, and who is prepared to gamble a little money on the venture.

ROYALS MAKE OFFER

Westminster made the first move to keep the home fires burning by offering Vancouver all the proceeds from their own games for the balance of the season.

This magnanimous gesture from a team notorious for forcing usually a 50-40 break in financial arrangements, stirred the sluggish blood of one or two Vancouver athletes and they made cautious overtures to their colleagues.

Native Sons Win
Mann Cup Lacrosse
Vancouver, June 6.—In a Mann Cup lacrosse game here last night, Native Sons of Canada defeated Andy Paul's Indians, four goals to one. The score hardly indicates the run of play. The Braves had the ball probably more frequently than the Sons, but they failed to take advantage of their opportunities.

Championship Fight In Victoria During Sailors' Visit Here

Vic Foley Will Defend His Bantamweight Crown at Show at Drill Hall

With the revival of the old Victoria Boxing Club an opportunity for the fans to see a Canadian championship fight will be given June 25, when the British naval squadron will be in Victoria. A fight for the professional bantamweight crown will be put on with Vic Foley of Vancouver, internationally popular and one of the best young fighters Canada has ever turned out, defending his laurels. W. H. Davies has been named as matchmaker, but has not yet signed up any opponent for the hard-hitting young champion.

The Drill Hall has been secured for the affair and a big guarantee has been made to Foley. The party will be staged on a more lavish style than any other fight put on in Victoria for years. It will require a $2,500 to $3,000 gate to break even. The main bout will be a ten-round go. There will be an eight-round semi-windup between two good lads. There will also be one six, two four and one three-round contests.

Countryman Sues Villa For Heart Balm

New York, June 6.—Pancho Villa, flyweight boxing champion, has been sued for $50,000 by a fellow countryman who charges alienation of his wife's affections. It was learned today. A summons and complaint were served on Villa as he was dressing for his fight on May 27 and yesterday the champion's attorney filed an answer denying the charges.

Fernando Dantes, who lives with his wife in New York, is the complainant in the suit.

Kelowna, June 6.—F. A. Taylor of Kelowna, won the men's golf championship in the tournament held on the links of the Kelowna Golf Club for the past three days, under the auspices of the Golf Association of the Interior of B.C., thus obtaining possession of the Kelowna Business Men's trophy. G. W. Black, Kamloops, has been elected president for the ensuing year.

Earl Hands Over Derby Stake Money $50,000, to Trainer

London, June 6.—The Earl of Derby is handing over the entire stake money won by St. Savino in yesterday's classic at Epsom Downs to the colt's trainer, the Hon. George Lambton, brother of the Earl of Durham, says The Daily Mail.

Lord Derby often declared that if he ever won the great race named for his family the stakes would go to the trainer. Lambton benefits to the extent of about £11,000.

Indoor Ball Games Scheduled To-night

What should prove to be two of the best games this season are scheduled to-night in the Victoria and District Indoor Baseball League. At the Work Point barracks the Garrison will be hosts to the Esquimalt nine while the Hillcrests will take on the Y.M.C.A. at Macaney's. Both games are expected to be keenly contested, and should provide plenty of excitement for the fans. The games are scheduled to commence at 6:45 o'clock sharp.

To-night's game will bring to a close the first half of the schedule, and all the teams will be out in an effort to chalk up a final victory. In the game at Work Point barracks the dockyarders will make a last effort to hand the Tommies their first defeat of the season. Should the soldiers lose then a three-cornered tie would exist between the Hillcrests, Tillicums and Garrison for the league leadership. The Tommies will be fielding their strongest line up for this evening's game, while Esquimalt will have a strong team out.

In the game at Macaney Point the boys from the "Y" who have been going strong in their last few games, will try hard to hand a defeat to the Hillcrests. A loss for the latter will put them out of the running for the championship of the first half of the league.

HOME MISSION WORK IS DESCRIBED

Achievements of Year Reported by Board to Canadian Presbyterian Assembly

Owen Sound, Ont., June 6 (Canadian Press)—To make Canada Christian, for her own safety and for the friendly service of the world is the first and final aim of the work of the board that is best denominated "The Board of National Missions," said the report of the Home Missions and Social Service Department of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, presented at a session of the General Assembly here yesterday.

The task of establishing the church on the frontier, giving the Gospel to every scattered settlement and new community whether East or West, has been the special responsibility of the Christian church. But along with this and equally important in the life of the country is giving this same Gospel to neglected districts in great city centres, continues the report.

FINANCIAL POSITION

"Financially the board is in a stronger position than a year ago, not because of a larger revenue, but because of a policy of retrenchment," said the report. "For 1923 the expenditure for maintenance was $185,823, or $10,000 less than in 1922. This reduction of twelve per cent. was possible only by leaving work undone and fields unoccupied. Keeping these expenditures $14,000 less than authorized by the Assembly testifies to a serious and successful effort on the part of this board to relieve the financial strain and tide over a period of great difficulty. The revenue was sufficient to meet the expenditure and to reduce the Home Mission share of the church's deficit from $100,000 to $45,000. The total number of augmented charges and Home Mission fields is 979. Twenty-nine augmented charges became self-sustaining. Several of the Home Mission fields, chiefly for lack of funds, were left for the year without supply.

"The board reports to the Assembly that the new minimum stipend of $1,500 has been accepted by practically the whole church. "Student missionaries to the number of 216 were appointed for summer work at the annual meeting of the board.

SOCIAL SETTLEMENTS

"In 'downtown' areas the church is expressing its faith in the Gospel of Jesus Christ to save even unto the uttermost," the practical Christian service of the social settlement. In Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver work of this kind is carried on, ministering to 7,311 families and 12,947 individuals. About 2,500 mothers were taken out to fresh air camps in the country and given relief, if even for a short time, from the toll and heat of a congested area in a large city.

EVANGELISM

"Ninety-four evangelistic missions were held during the year, the average length of each being two-and-one-half weeks. No province was overlooked in these services. During 1923, 160 were admitted to the different redemptive homes and nineteen give temporary shelter. Seventy-two women were brought into full church membership on public confession of their faith. Sixty girls were restored to their homes and sixty others were sent to safe positions, while forty-four children were adopted into Christian homes.

MISSION HOSPITALS

"There are fourteen hospitals and hospital units situated in Ontario and the Western provinces ministering to all racial groups in the large colonies and on the frontier. One hospital treated 1,800 patients in the year and ninety-five per cent. of these were non-Anglo-Saxons. The typical and gives an idea of the splendid service rendered by the frontier hospitals.

"There are now eighteen school homes caring for 350 children and young people. Nine other applications are waiting for action on the part of the board. At one centre 225 boys and girls have been educated and most of these are to-day occupying positions of influence and usefulness in various communities. To educate the children of the country in the best Christian atmosphere possible is to make a great contribution to them and to the nation, and this is the aim of the school home.

INDIAN WORK

"For years the number of Indians in Canada showed a steady decrease," continues the report. "The period between 1911 and 1921, however, recorded an increase of over 5,000. In the various boarding and day schools there are over 700 Indian children in attendance. These institutions are growing in efficiency and a greater number of the children are showing interest and progress in their work. Eighty-four prizes were won at the Provincial Exhibition in Regina by the children in the Indian school, and fifty-one of these were in competition with white children.

NON-ANGLO-SAXONS

"The work among non-Anglo-Saxons made very substantial progress during the year. Congregations were more fully organized and in a number of instances definite financial obligations were assumed by the people. The attendance at public worship has greatly increased and a new interest in religion is spreading among many of the racial groups. These missions will provide centres around which many of the newcomers will gather on their arrival in Canada. The institutional missions in Toronto, Hamilton, Salt Lake City, and Edmonton are ministering effectively to their various constituencies, reaching 1,374 families and a correspondingly large number of individuals.

"The non-Anglo-Saxon is now definitely sharing in the task of directing the life of Canada and is helping to set up standards of conduct and to determine the public conduct of the nation. Young men and women from all racial groups are graduating from Canadian universities and taking their place among the intellectual forces of the country. The Christian church is seeking to conserve and to direct this vigorous young life for the sake of the young people themselves and for the sake of the Dominion.

FOR STRANGERS

"Stationed at ports of entry and in other cities where large numbers of newcomers gather there are four chaplains and ten deaconesses, as well as other workers who help these new settlers to forget the sadness of farewell and to overcome the strangeness of the new in the welcome extended to them in the name of the Christian churches. In 1923 new citizens to the number of 137,681 were received into Canada, as compared with 70,153 the previous year. Over sixty-two per cent. of these remained in Ontario and the Western provinces."

DEATH OF W. R. COPLEY

The death has occurred in the Nanaimo Hospital of William Richard Copley, aged thirty-five years, brother of George R. Copley, a well-known farmer of Wellington district. He was a native of Northamptonshire, Eng., and had lived in the district for the past thirteen years.

Good-bye to Jammed Car Rides

"THANK GOODNESS! I'm through with that," exclaimed Tom, as he wheeled past the crowd struggling to get on the street car.

"It's much pleasanter sitting on my comfortable saddle than hanging to a strap in a jammed, stuffy car."

Tom is right. It certainly is a pleasure to ride a sweet-running C.C.M. Bicycle to work these fine mornings.

There is health in every breath. And the gentle exercise of cycling is just enough to stir up the circulation and put pep into the system. You feel fit to tackle the day's work.

You can ride home at noon, too, to a hot lunch if you desire. And, after the day's work is done, what a comfort to spin home on your smooth-running C.C.M. while others are trudging along the hard pavements or waiting on the corner for a crowded street car.

It will not take long to pay for a C.C.M. Bicycle. You can do it with the car-fare you'll save, or with the shoe leather you'll save instead of walking on hard pavements. Your time is worth money, too, and a bicycle will save you lots of time.

See the handsome new C.C.M. models, all asparkle with their bright nickeling and lustrous enameling.

Every C.C.M. is equipped with the famous C.C.M. Triplex Hanger—the power plant that gives C.C.M. Bicycles so much speed—and pep—and go.

They're equipped with the C.C.M. Hercules Coaster Brake, too—the one without the clumsy side arm—yet ounces lighter and with fewer parts than any other.

There's the new Gibson Pedal, too, with its silvery, rust-proof aluminum frame. Weather-proof Maple Rims. Flint-hard Bearings of extreme accuracy. A bicycle of supreme quality in all its 1,761 parts.

Drop into the C.C.M. dealer's and see the new models. From the Standard model—the Special—the Sport model and other designs—it will be easy to pick out one that suits you to perfection, and at from $15 to $20 less than the "peak" prices. A Big Dollar's Value for every dollar you invest in a C.C.M. establishment of wireless communication between ships and the shore.

always appeals to the ears of the layman and the sailor. Messages on board ship are usually received in these areas.

COMMUNICATION

It is a well-known fact that a wireless station on a shipboard which is kept in touch with the shore can instill a sense of security and a feeling of well-being in the crew experienced.

One of the largest number of radio stations has now become known as the "radio" stations. The SS. Leviathan consists of a large number of radio stations for its trans-Atlantic service. It usually transmits messages which may be heard by a hundred "radiograms" to cover the Atlantic steamer service. A large number of these stations are used for communication with the shore. Some of the stations are working at a great distance from the shore on the continent with a wave-length of 100 meters.

Under favorable conditions it is possible of working with stations during the winter of the radio stations. There has been in communication with the shore across the Atlantic.

When it is realized that the number of the radio stations is as many as six or more, it is not surprising that the trans-Atlantic liners of the world are able to maintain a constant time line of communication with the shore. The cut out to supply the station of the ship is located at Chatham, and the channels on the west side of the Atlantic are three or four miles long. The smaller coast stations are the well-known stations of the world. The vessels whose traffic is received to navigation stations are the 450-meter stations.

Previously allocated, the use has been provided for the stations and coast stations from transmitting the trans-Atlantic lines. The found a series of radio broadcast stations.

CURED.—Winnie Perry, thirteen-year-old Port Arthur girl, who has been a cripple since her third birthday, but through the skill of Dr. Clarence Starr, Toronto, and the kindness of the Gyrlo Clubs of Port Arthur and Toronto, was able to return to her home completely cured and able to walk with no artificial appliance except an orthopaedic shoe. Thirteen was not an unlucky number for Winnie.

GAVE DENTAL CLINICS.—Dr. Allen McDonagh (top) and Dr. Ruth Drew-Brooks, specialists in children's dentistry, who gave clinics at the Ontario dental convention in Toronto this week.

WHY DO THEY HAVE REVOLUTIONS IN HONDURAS?—This picture is the answer. Lonely little cabins—only ox-teams for joy rides—no movies. Hondurans fight just to get a little fun out of life.

"WILD WEST" VISITS JOHN BULL.—"Tex" Austin, famed broncho buster from Texas, and Mrs. Austin, are shown arriving in London where "Tex" will superintend the international rodeo at the British Empire Exposition at Wembley, when cowboys of Canada, New Zealand, South Africa and Australia will meet in competition. American buckaroos will also ride.

NEW GOLF COMPETITION.—Gene Sarazen, professional golf champion, met the two surf casters on the course of the Briarcliffe Lodge Golf Association in a unique match. The surf casters endeavored to make a better score by casting than Sarazen could with his golf clubs, but genial Gene was far in the lead on the first half. Photo shows Jack Schwinn, champion accuracy bait caster, measuring distance before putting.

MARRIED ON A LIGHTHOUSE.—Some people have been married by radio. Others have said their marital vows in airplanes up in the clouds. But a wedding on a lighthouse is something new. It remained for Ole Olsen and Grace Weber, vaudeville entertainers, to do it. The ceremony was performed on a gangplank of Mile Rock Lighthouse at the entrance to the Golden Gate, San Francisco, forty feet above the sea. Judge Frank Dunn officiated. Inset is a close-up of the nuptials.

KIDNAPPED.—Rev. R. A. Jaffray of Toronto, was one of four missionaries seized by Chinese bandits and carried off to a mountain stronghold in Kwangsi Province, where he is held for ransom.

NEVER BEAT LONDON.—Sir John Aird, in an interview given in England, expressed the opinion that New York would never win from London the right to be regarded as the world's money market.

PROTEST EXCLUSION.—First picture to reach this country showing Japanese protesting to American Ambassador Cyrus Wood (left) at Tokio against Exclusion Act recently passed by Congress.

FUN?—The annual barrel-rolling contest in Paris produces a scene like that above. We don't know who won and we're sure you don't care.

NEW CALENDAR?—A thirteen-month year and a twenty-eight day month! That is the way Dr. B. F. Yanney, professor of mathematics at Wooster College, Wooster, would revise the calendar. Such a change would make it correct for the next 3,000 years, he declares.

ONE IS HER BABY.—Fannie Lockwood, seventeen-year-old St. Louis girl mother, has a task on her hands. She must decide which of three babies is the one that was taken from her a week after its birth. These are the three from which she must make her choice. All are four months old now. Blood tests probably will solve the tangle.

WORLD FLIERS DISABLED AT CORFU.—Major Stuart MacLaren (right) leader of the British round-the-world flight, shown stranded in the harbor of Corfu, where engine trouble forced a landing. ## Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial

UNEASINESS DISPLAYED

IN STOCK MARKET
New York, June 6 (By R. P. Clark & Company).—The general run of news items was not very constructive in interpretation especially advice touching on the oil situation. Numerous reductions in gasoline prices were announced, also much talk of cut in mid-continent crude. Sugar stocks were under pressure, reflecting depression in the raw market. A helpful influence of the day with respect to the rail shares was the car loading figures which showed an increase over the preceding week in the face of reports of slowing up in the rail which are so numerous these days.

Heaviness in the market was due to a renewal of bearish activities stimulated largely by the reports of reduction in crude oil on the mid-continent field and Texas, and also the remarks credited to a very prominent local operator.

We see nothing to warrant a pessimistic over the business outlook and believe that a not distant date possibilities of a clearing up of the foreign situation may become quite a constructive factor.

STOCKS WEAK AND LOWER

RAILS RESIST PRESSURE
New York, June 6 (By B. A. Bond).—A good deal of weakness was apparent in to-day's stock market, especially in the industrial group. Railroad shares showed some firmness at the beginning, but later felt the influence of the weakness in other departments of the list. Oil stocks were affected by the decline in crude oil prices as announced by the Magnolia Petroleum, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil of New York. Baldwin Locomotive sold ex-dividend, and later lost two points, while the Steel stocks lost ground steadily toward the close. Traders are now waiting for developments in connection with the coming Presidential nominations, and while a certain amount of nervousness is felt, it is thought generally that the market position will be strengthened temporarily at least when results of the Republican nomination are known. Money is cheap and banks are picking up good securities. This should relieve the pressure on the market, and eventually result in a substantial advance all around.

NARROW MARKET

IN CHICAGO GRAINS
Chicago, Ill., June 6 (By R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd.).—Wheat: Following an early rally, the wheat tone became weak with a sharp decline running into support on the set-backs. The shipping demand was better with sales of 70,000 bushels and there was evidence that prices are on an export basis on the dips. Rains were shown at some points in the northwest, but more general and heavy rain is needed. It is extremely significant that Europe continues to absorb tremendous quantities of wheat weekly without a falling price or apparently glutting any of the foreign markets.

We believe this situation will be a big factor on the buying side a little later on, but our market is still undergoing readjustment with Winnipeg and will have to stand the test of hedging pressure.

This will make a two-sided market for a time, but would buy on the set-backs for turns now and later for a long pull.

Corn: In general showing little net change for the day, being influenced at times by the weakness in wheat, but having a fair demand at all times, with the September gaining on the July. Crop conditions still indicate a dubious outlook in many important sections. We look for a two-sided market for present.

Oats: Reached with wheat and there was selling by local buyers who got recently cash prices are showing a strong tone relatively, and this is helping out the bulls materially. Crop news still mainly optimistic, but this crop also needs some warm weather.

Chicago, June 6 (By B. A. Bond).—A trading market of very narrow proportions was witnessed in grain futures to-day. Wheat was inclined to sag, but last prices were not much below the opening. The near delivery tended to gain on the more distant futures. Corn and oats were little changed with the former showing the most resistance to selling pressure. Crop advice as regards wheat are about a wash, the continued dry weather in the Northwest, particularly in the Pacific states, is offset by favorable conditions in the Middle West. Conditions in the corn belt are still unfavorable. The corn census of opinion seems to favor purchases of wheat on recessions, although the market action of the past few days does not indicate any marked strength in the technical position of the market.

PROVINCE'S PAYROLL REACHES $145,000,000 MARK; ASIATIC WORKERS IN B.C. DECREASING

British Columbia's total payroll last year reached the enormous figure of $145,000,000, according to the official estimate compiled by the Provincial Department of Labor and given out to-day by J. D. McNeven, Deputy Minister of Labor, in a summary of his annual report.

Industrial firms which made returns to the Department of Labor last year, Mr. McNeven states, paid out $106,796,958 in wages which is a big increase over the amount paid out by the firms reporting last year when the payroll totaled $86,192,190. These totals, however, do not include many very large classes of business which have not submitted returns.

Probably the most striking information contained in Mr. McNeven's report is the statement that the proportion of Asiatics employed in British Columbia last year was, lower than at any time in the last six years. Of the men employed in this Province last year 24.55 per cent were native Canadians and 30.29 natives of the British Isles. Chinese, Japanese and Hindus formed 13.85 per cent of the workers as compared with 14.61 per cent in 1922. In 1918 Asiatics formed 20.37 per cent of the male industrial workers. Natives of continental Europe last year formed 15.43 per cent of the total numbers of workers.

"Of our industrial workers of Asiatic origin, the majority are engaged in one branch or another of the lumbering industry. This decline is caused entirely by the lowering of the proportion of Orientals in sawmills, from 23.32 per cent, in 1922 to 23.95 per cent, in 1923. In all other branches of the lumbering industry the percentage of Oriental workers has been raised, in logging from 5.34 to 7.96, on logging railways from 9.62 to 14.95, in planing mills from 38.50 to 56.13.

The average increase in wages in British Columbia last year, Mr. Mc-

Neven states, was 2.55 per cent. This decline is caused entirely by the lowering of the proportion of Orientals in sawmills, from 23.32 per cent, in 1922 to 23.95 per cent, in 1923. In all other branches of the lumbering industry the percentage of Oriental workers has been raised, in logging from 5.34 to 7.96, on logging railways from 9.62 to 14.95, in planing mills from 38.50 to 56.13.

The average increase in wages in British Columbia last year, Mr. Mc-

Neven states, was 2.55 per cent. This decline is caused entirely by the lowering of the proportion of Orientals in sawmills, from 23.32 per cent, in 1922 to 23.95 per cent, in 1923. Mr. Erick Bowman, the discoverer of The Bowman Remedy, claims that in treating 70,000 cattle in the United States the results have been successful in 98% of the cases treated. Are your dairy cows and heifers causing you trouble? Are you obtaining results in calves and milk that satisfy you? Do your cows (according to your knowledge of their capacity) produce as much milk as they should—or are you marking time and feeding a number of boarders that should be sent to the butcher? These are matters that can be put right. Delays are fatal. Why not consult

EVANGELIST WILL TELL OF IRELAND

Rev. Walter Duff Has Distinguished Career in North of Ireland

Rev. Walter Duff, Belfast, a noted evangelist with sixteen years of experience lecturing in the North of Ireland, is in the city this week for a series of addresses. Keynote in the series of lectures will be that scheduled at the Gorge Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening when the evangelist will take as his theme "The Truth About Ireland." Last night Rev. Duff delighted a large gathering at the Metropolitan Church. To-night he will address a gathering at the Gorge Presbyterian Church. To-morrow a lecture will be given in the Reformed Episcopal Church. On Sunday addresses will be made in several of the city churches. On Monday the Young People's Society of the Metropolitan Church will hear the evangelist in a special address. Tuesday, the closing lecture, will be at the Gorge Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Mr. Duff has lectured from East to West on this continent for the past two years. He is a witty and magnetic speaker, bringing to his aid the charm of Irish legendry and the mature thought of a man who has observed life in many corners of the world.

A choir of 40,000, pastored churches was discovered by the evangelist while touring in the States. These are being diverted to motion picture theatres and garages, he states, and points to a serious tendency in these days when the lack of new material is leaving all churches short-handed in spreading their mission. Rev. Mr. Duff had the unique experience of traversing almost every part of Ireland on foot, spending sixteen years of study and evangelism in that country. He is a serious thinker and with well-defined view on the recent events in the Emerald Isle.

CLAIMS CREDIT FOR INDUSTRIAL AREA ON RESERVE

Mr. Oliver pointed out to working men the operations of the Sidney Roofing plant on the Reserve, located here as a result of a loan of $100,000 from the Industries Board.

DEMAND ILLEGAL

The Premier invited Mayor Hay to ask for a grant of $100,000 additional in aid of the Johnson Street bridge, while openly stating that if such a grant were received, it would be used to reduce current taxes. "He made an appeal for money for one purpose and intended to use it for another. That is not good business, and besides, is illegal," the Governor couldn't do it. Yet the Mayor is trying to make capital out of what he considers an injury.

Mr. Oliver met the Conservative cry for taxation of governmental buildings in Victoria by asserting that many other municipalities would be delighted to give tax exemption to secure the government. "So what's the use of that talk? It is only making, irritating pin-pricks," he said.

Jovially noting that the Conservatives must be expecting some political deaths as their candidates include a parson, lawyer and undertaker, the Premier aroused another a burst of interruptions.

A shout of laughter met Mr. Oliver when he retorted: "I'm an old man, but hearty, and I confidently expect to see some of these noisy ones carried out on their last ride while I'm hard at work."

PORT MAN LAND DEALS

Premier Oliver dealt with General McKee and the Port Mann townsite on lines similar to those adopted at Cobble Hill on Wednesday evening. The Premier said he considered that it would be quite consistent with General McKee's conduct, in covering the operations of Mackenzie and Mann, for him to be now in politics to cover the operations of some big corporation desiring to get control of British Columbia's public assets, a control impossible while the Oliver administration was in power.

Premier Oliver quoted documents to show that the release of over $571,000 by this Province, out of a bond sale, for Port Mann terminals of the Canadian Northern Railway was made to General McKee.

"I say that $571,410 was not the first valuation placed on that land, an earlier valuation of $12,000 had been filed at New Westminster Land Registry. Either one or the other of those declarations was untrue. I say this affidavit now published by General McKee is untrue," he retorted to a questioner.

CITY POLITICS RECALLED

He said: "We have three men from our municipal affairs standing before you. One of them endeavored some years ago to take away from you the control of your own waterworks and vest that valuable property in three independent bodies. We do not want a man who votes citizen's money, without authority, for golf links."

"We have another man before us, he says he has reduced the mill rate as a municipal administrator. That is true, but he has shared in the boosting of the improvement tax, and his house owners have to pay more despite the fractional mill rate reduction."

"Now I believe in equal rates, and Premier Oliver is the only man who has made headway on the railway freight rates case."

Between speeches Miss Lockwood rendered a number of delightful songs, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Morton.

The proceedings opened with "O Canada" and closed with the National Anthem.
